Update of information package for academic communities

Table of Contents

1. Recruitment

All relevant information about the program will be published on the EC2U website and the websites of each Consortium institution. Students can apply to any Consortium institution where the Joint Master's Program is accredited, including the University of Coimbra (Portugal), the University of Pavia (Italy), the University of Poitiers (France), the University of Salamanca (Spain), and the University of Turku (Finland), which will award the diploma.

When applying to the program, applicants must follow the local application rules of the selected institution. Students will apply to one of the degree-awarding universities, which will be responsible for verifying the legal and academic eligibility of the applicants. After a student is pre-admitted by one of these institutions, the Global Admission Board will officially admit the student into the program.

Admission to the programme is selective. There is a maximum capacity of 30 students in the programme (6 per degree-awarding university). The candidates will be ranked at each partner university on a scale of 100 points. The selection criteria are assessed based on:

- Transcript of Records: Knowledge of at least two foreign languages (among the following: Finnish, French, German, Italian, Portuguese, Romanian, Spanish, English for Turku) at B2 level besides English as a lingua franca (this is a compulsory requirement)
- Motivation Letter and European Standard Curriculum Vitae.

The criteria include three categories:

- Academic Excellence (50 points). Points for academic excellence are based on the ECTS weighted average of the exam grades reported in the transcript of records if at the time of application the student does not hold the Bachelor. If the applicant provides more than one previous Degree, the Joint Admission Committee will consider the highest level or in case of equal level, the first one listed by the applicant.
- Language Knowledge (20 points). The knowledge of higher levels with respect the minimum requirement will be considered
- Personal Competencies (30 points, 10 points for each item) : Intercultural competence, Civic engagement, Interest in program enrolment

Students asking for a transfer from other master's degrees or for enrollment to a second degree will follow local rules.

The Global Admission Committee will assist students in designing a personalized curriculum, taking into account their initial preferences regarding mobility. The final number of students registered at each partner university will be approved by the Global Admission Board.

National regulations may limit the number of non-Eu students admitted to the master.

The application intake, publication of rankings for eligible candidates, and the enrollment period vary by the degree-awarding university, occurring between January and September for applications, and March to September for rankings and enrollment.

2. Mobility path

The mobility from the First Semester University to the Second Semester University is not mandatory. Mobility to a Third Semester University not being the student's First Semester University is mandatory. Students will have to study at least in 2 Consortium Institutions and are allowed to attend 2 semesters at the same Institution.

Semester	University
First	University A
Second	University A or B
Third	University B or C, but not A
Fourth	At any Consortium Institutions A, B, C or D. Only restriction: students are allowed to study only 2 semesters at the same University.

Any of the seven Consortium Institutions (University of Coimbra, University Alexandru Ioan Cuza of Iasi, University of Jena, University of Pavia, University of Poitiers, University of Salamanca and University of Turku) can be selected by the students as University A, B, C, and D. However, students will only be awarded a master's degree from the universities where the program is accredited.

3. Course Structure

The student may choose from an 'à la carte' selection of courses offered by each institution, as detailed below.
