European Languages, Cultures and Societies in Contact

The EC2U Joint Master's Programme "European Languages, Cultures and Societies in Contact" is a 2-year Master's Degree (4 semesters, 30 ECTS each, 120 ECTS in total) that provides students with an in-depth knowledge of the European linguistic, cultural and social landscape using advanced research methods in the academic field. This degree is in line with professional practice and will ensure students to launch their career with enhanced professionalism and quality of services in the broad field of language, cultural contact and social diversity.

A new university to discover each semester!

The EC2U Campus provides students with the opportunity to study abroad, gain multicultural experiences, and expand their professional network. Over the course of their learning journey, students can study in up to 4 of the 8 EC2U universities.

A degree tailored to students' needs

Students will be able to personalise their curriculum: they will choose their study plan in accordance with the course catalogue provided by the universities they will be studying at.

Career Opportunities

The learning outcomes are valued by employers and this programme equips students for a wide range of careers both in the public/private sectors:

- Cultural mediator
- Mobility consultant
- Multilingual project manager
- Diplomat at intermediate and high levels of organizations
- Teacher-researcher
- Bilingual communication officer
- Journalist
- Project officer

"One of the most impactful aspects of the EC2U Joint Master's Programme is the opportunity for cultural immersion through studying at multiple universities across Europe. This experience allows students to gain insights into different academic environments, teaching styles, and cultural perspectives. It enhances personal growth, adaptability, and a global mindset, which are invaluable in today's interconnected world." - A 2024 graduate student
